Star Flyer incident in Cyprus

We have received a report of a seven-year-old boy and his 44-year-old mother being seriously injured at an amusement park in Ayia Napa, Cyprus, in April after, according to police, their swing collided with another ride.

According to authorities, the mother and son were on the Star Flyer ride at Parko Paliatso when part of the swing in which they were seated hit another ride. Reports suggest the ride was going too fast, making the angle of the swings too wide and taking them too close to an adjacent ride.

It is reported that the boy suffered an exposed fracture to his right leg, while the mother lacerated her left knee, broke her right hand and suffered concussion.
